Whether in standard paintwork or as a special request, sports cars from Zuffenhausen bring colour to life – now more than ever, because the colours that defined decades past are available once again with the Paint to Sample program. From Ferry Porsche's favourite colour, Irish Green, to iconic 90s colours like Mint Green and Rubystar, to Lava Orange, the feisty colour of the GT3 RS from the 991 generation. The current models are bringing the past 75 years back to life, which is why this strictly limited and numbered series of posters is being released for company's anniversary, in cooperation with the creative people at ramp. Printed in high quality with an exclusive finish, this colour theory brings typical Porsche dynamics into every home.

Racing Collection

A victory march. In a straight line. The legendary Porsche 956 took all the titles in the FIA World Sportscar Championship from 1982 to 1984 in both the driver and manufacturer categories. The first pilot behind the wheel was Jürgen Barth, who put the legendary racing car to the test in March 1982 on our own track in Weissach. After promising drives on home ground, he was off to France later that year, where he competed in the 24-hour race in Le Mans, taking third place. That's not all: first and second place also went to Porsche and the 956.

In short, it was the beginning of a great success story that the Racing Collection continues with its choice of colours and design based on the iconic winner. Bringing this flair and dynamism to everyday life with sporty, casual outfits.
