Brief description of “Architecture & Design” workshop

The Porsche Museum will once again be offering professionally led photography workshops in 2020 entitled “Architecture & Design”. These photography workshops thematically combine both of the key elements of the Porsche museum: the participants can photograph the museum’s exceptional architecture as well as the fascinating design of the exhibition cars - ideally, by cleverly capturing both elements together. Your workshop instructor, the professional photographer Dr. Micha Pawlitzki, will help you find dynamic, original and unusual perspectives on the architecture and sports cars.

One special feature of these photography workshops is that all the courses are held outside the museum’s opening times. This allows the participants to photograph the museum undisturbed and concentrate on the fascinating architecture, the exhibited cars and design details.

About your workshop instructor: With over 150 publications at the best European publishers to his name, Micha Pawlitzki is one of Europe’s most published photographers and has received many international awards. Micha Pawlitzki has held over 50 courses at the museum so he knows the museum and its photography motifs and is available to assist and advise all the participants during the workshop.
