Porsche Cars GB Ltd. Applicant Privacy Notice

Porsche Cars GB Limited, of Bath Road, Calcot, Reading, Berkshire, RG31 7SE ("Porsche") has prepared this Applicant Privacy Notice ("Notice") for applicants to roles with Porsche. In connection with your application we have to process your personal data. We think that it is very important that you understand how we use your personal data, and we take our obligations in this regard very seriously. The purpose of this Notice is therefore to give you information about how Porsche collects, processes, stores and otherwise uses information about you, and your rights in relation to that information.

Porsche needs to process your personal data in order to process your application for employment. There are also statutory requirements we have to comply with in relation to your application. If we are not able to carry out the processing activities we describe in this Notice we may not be able to continue with your application. Of course, we hope it would never come to that, and this is simply information we are obliged to provide to you as part of this Notice.

We need to ask for your specific consent to process your personal data in a particular way in certain circumstances, such as for the purpose of conducting background checks prior to you commencing employment with us, to enable relevant third parties to release information about you as part of those checks.

Although we are seeking your consent in relation to certain background checks, you should note that in most cases we will process your personal data for the reasons set out in this Notice and it won't be appropriate or necessary for you to provide consent as the legal basis for processing your personal data.

When we say "Porsche", "we" or "us" in this document, we mean the Porsche entity that you're applying to work for. In addition, you will see a number of references to the "Porsche Group", which includes all other Porsche entities globally. We may update this document from time to time, for example if we implement new systems or processes that involve the use of personal data.

In this Notice you will see reference to "GDPR" - that refers to the European Union General Data Protection Regulation which is a European law governing your rights in relation to your personal data, and how organisations should protect it.

together "Applicant Data".

In addition to the collection, processing and use of the Applicant Data, Porsche collects, processes and uses the following special categories of personal information about you which we describe as "Sensitive Applicant Data":

- health and medical data, such as information on disability;
- criminal records data;
- race or ethnicity data such as information contained in your passport or other citizenship and right to work documentation, and information which you have voluntarily provided to Porsche for the purposes of our equal opportunities and diversity monitoring initiatives;

Why does Porsche need to collect, process and use my Applicant Data and Sensitive Applicant Data and what is the legal basis for doing so?

We collect and use Applicant Data and Sensitive Applicant Data for a variety of reasons linked to processing your application for a role with us (the "Processing Purposes"). However, we can only collect and use this data if we have a valid legal basis for doing so, and we are required to explain the various legal bases that we rely on to you.

To give you the full picture, we have set out each of the reasons why we collect and use Applicant Data, i.e. the Processing Purposes, and mapped these against the different legal bases that allow us to do so. We appreciate that this is quite a lot of information to take in, so please bear with us:

We appreciate that there is a lot of information to take in, and we want to be as clear with you as possible over what this means. Where we talk about "legitimate interests" of Porsche or third parties, this can include:

- Assessing your suitability for employment/engagement with Porsche;
- Implementation and operation of a group-wide organisational structure and group-wide information sharing;
- Right to freedom of expression or information, including in the media and the arts;
- Prevention of fraud, misuse of company IT systems, or money laundering;
- Operation of a whistleblowing scheme;
- Physical security, IT and network security;
- Internal Investigations;
- Compliance with our legal obligations;
- Proposed mergers and acquisitions.

When relying on the legitimate interests basis for processing your personal data, we will balance the legitimate interest pursued by us and any relevant third party with your interest and fundamental rights and freedoms in relation to the protection of your personal data to ensure it is appropriate for us to rely on legitimate interests and to identify any additional steps we need to take to achieve the right balance.

Got it - but who might Porsche share my personal information with?

As you may know, we are part of the global Porsche AG Group, and several entities in this group are involved in the Processing Purposes. To ensure that the Processing Purposes can be completed, your information may be shared with any of the entities within the Porsche Group network. Where we do share data in this way, however, it is our policy to limit the categories of individual who have access to that personal information.

Porsche may transfer personal data to third parties, including to entities within and outside the Porsche Group located in any jurisdictions where Porsche Group entities are located, for the Processing Purposes as follows:

- Within the Porsche Group. As the Porsche entity that you are applying to is part of a wider group headquartered in the Germany, which all partially share management, human resources, legal, compliance, finance and audit responsibility, Porsche may transfer the Applicant Data and Sensitive Applicant Data to, or otherwise allow access to such data by other entities within the Porsche Group, which may use, transfer, and process the data for the following purposes: to maintain and improve effective administration of the workforce; to communicate information about the Porsche Group; to maintain a corporate directory; to maintain IT systems; to monitor and assure compliance with applicable policies and procedures, and applicable laws; and to respond to requests and legal demands from regulators and other authorities.

- Regulators, authorities, and other third parties. As necessary for the Processing Purposes described above, personal information may be transferred to regulators, courts, and other authorities (e.g., tax and law enforcement authorities), independent external advisors (e.g., auditors), insurance providers, pensions and benefits providers, internal compliance and investigation teams (including external advisers appointed to conduct internal investigations).
- Data processors. As necessary for the Processing Purposes described above, personal data may be shared with one or more third parties, whether affiliated or unaffiliated, to process personal information under appropriate instructions ("Data Processors"). The Data Processors may carry out instructions related to recruitment, workforce administration, IT system support and maintenance, payroll and compensation, training, compliance, and other activities, and will be subject to contractual obligations to implement appropriate technical and organisational security measures to safeguard the personal information, and to process the personal information only as instructed.

For a full list of the Porsche Group entities and third parties that we may share your data with, please contact us as set out below.

As you may expect, some of the recipients we may share Applicant Data and Sensitive Applicant Data with may be located in countries outside of Europe. In some cases, this may include countries located outside the European Union and/or European Economic Area ("EEA").

Some countries where recipients may be located already provide an adequate level of protection for this data (e.g. Canada), and transfers to other countries such as the USA may be protected under arrangements such as the EU-US Privacy Shield. Nonetheless, for transfers to Porsche Group entities outside of the EEA, Porsche will be bound by the EU Standard Contractual Clauses pursuant to Article 46(2)(c) GDPR, which the European Commission has assessed as providing an adequate level of protection for personal data, to ensure that your data is protected adequately.

If recipients are located in other countries without adequate protections for personal data, Porsche will take all necessary measures to ensure that transfers out of the EEA are adequately protected as required by applicable data protection law. This will include using appropriate safeguards such as the EU Standard Data Protection Clauses. You can ask for a copy of the such appropriate safeguards by contacting us as set out below ("Who can I contact about this?").

How long will Porsche keep my personal information for?

It is our policy not to keep personal information for longer than is necessary. We may, for example, keep your personal information for a reasonable time after your application process is completed, in case we have future job opportunities that we consider you are suitable for. Where personal information is kept, that period will be determined based on the applicable local law. For further information, please contact us as set out below to request further details on how long Porsche will retain different categories of personal information.

What rights do I have in respect of my personal information?

You have a number of rights in relation to your Applicant Data and Sensitive Applicant Data. These can differ by country, but can be summarised in broad terms as follows:

(i) Right of access

You have the right to confirm with us whether your personal data is processed, and if it is, to request access to that personal data including the categories of personal data processed, the purpose of the processing and the recipients or categories of recipients. We do have to take into account the interests of others though, so this is not an absolute right, and if you want to request more than one copy we may charge a fee.

(ii) Right to rectification

You may have the right to rectify inaccurate or incomplete personal data concerning you. We encourage you to review this information regularly to ensure that it is accurate and up to date.

(iii) Right to erasure (right to be forgotten)

You may have the right to ask us to erase personal data concerning you.

(iv) Right to restriction of processing

In limited circumstances, you may have the right to request that we restrict processing of your personal data, however where we process Applicant Data and Sensitive Applicant Data for the Processing Purposes we think that we have a legitimate interest in processing which may override a request that you make.

(v) Right to data portability

You may have the right to receive personal data concerning you, which you have provided to us, in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format and you may have the right to transmit that data to another entity.

(vi) Right to object and rights relating to automated decision-making

Under certain circumstances you may have the right to object, on grounds relating to your particular situation, at any time to the processing of your personal data, including profiling, by us and we can be required to no longer process your personal data. This may include requesting human intervention in relation to an automated decision so that you can express your view and to contest the decision.

To exercise any of these rights, please contact us as stated under below (Who can I contact about this?).

You also have the right to lodge a complaint with the competent data protection supervisory authority, which in the UK is the Information Commissioner's Office (the 'ICO').
