INTRODUCTION

Welcome

This year we celebrate the 75th anniversary of Porsche and the 60th anniversary of our iconic 911. Racing is at the heart of Porsche and everything we do. When you compete with Porsche you become part of our extended family, one with an unparalleled history and passion for motorsport.

The Porsche Motorsport Pyramid enables professional and amateur drivers to fulfill their dreams on the racetrack. From the World Endurance Championship, and Formula E, to track experiences at the Porsche Experience Centre, and within the virtual world of Esports. Porsche is synonymous with motorsport at every level.

2022 saw Porsche Cars Great Britain enjoy another busy and exciting year of action on road and track. The 20th milestone season of Porsche Carrera Cup GB and the third of Porsche Sprint Challenge GB both delivered exceptional entertainment. 2023 will continue to build on this success with a full calendar of racing taking place throughout the year.

Porsche Carrera Cup GB continues to evolve for 2023, keeping key dynamics that have made it so popular with fans and drivers over the years. Meanwhile, Porsche Sprint Challenge GB, the championship for the 718 Cayman GT4 Clubsport, moves up a gear. In 2023 the championship joins the TOCA package, racing exclusively in support of the British Touring Car Championship with an exciting calendar of 18 races.

On four occasions, both championships will appear on the same schedule, meaning fans will see the largest Porsche presence yet on a TOCA weekend – broadcast live on ITV4. Nurturing young racing talent is important for Porsche Motorsport and 2023 sees Porsche Carrera Cup GB Junior, Adam Smalley, enter his second year with us.

Our successful Junior Programme sits alongside the Young Driver Development Programme, and both initiatives deliver a comprehensive package for driver development on and off track.

Whether you are new to Porsche, or returning for another season, we look forward to welcoming you to the grid in 2023.

Why Porsche?

For more than 70 years Porsche has enjoyed a rich history in motorsport. Its story includes more than 32,000 race victories at nearly every level worldwide. Success on track with the 917, 956, and 919 Hybrid has resulted in countless wins for the iconic and timeless 911 and these are the foundations on which the peerless racing reputation of Porsche has been built. Today, Porsche remains the world's largest manufacturer of racing cars.

In 2023 Porsche celebrates not one, but two major milestones, the 75th anniversary of our brand and the 60th anniversary of our beloved 911, but that's not all. Porsche is the most successful motorsport manufacturer in Le Mans history, with an unequalled 19 outright victories at the iconic 24-hour race since the first in 1970. This year at the 100th Le Mans, and in the top category of endurance racing, LMDh, Porsche will return to la Sarthe with a new team, Porsche Penske Motorsport, and a new car, a 963 Hybrid.

Porsche is always looking for new ways to compete and in recent years we have focused upon Esports for two exciting new ventures, these include Porsche TAG Heuer Esports Supercup and Porsche Esports Carrera Cup Great Britain.

These combined racing activities form the Porsche Motorsport Pyramid and are designed to offer a road map for aspirational racers to progress from rookie to factory driver on the global stage.

From entry-level racing to the FIA Formula E Championship, the Porsche Motorsport Pyramid currently includes over 30 one-make global championships. Amongst them Porsche Carrera Cup GB, Porsche Sprint Challenge GB, and Porsche Mobil 1 Supercup, which supports Formula 1®.

Domestic championships are integral to our ongoing commitment to Porsche motorsport. The fastest single marque GT racing championship in the UK, Porsche Carrera Cup GB, enters its 21st season in 2023. Porsche Sprint Challenge GB enters its fourth season, showcasing an important level in the Porsche Motorsport Pyramid with the 718 Cayman GT4 Clubsport.

Since its start in 2003, Porsche Carrera Cup GB has enjoyed prime position for TOCA package racing in support of the British Touring Car Championship and this relationship continues in 2023. In addition, Porsche Sprint Challenge GB will also race exclusively with TOCA, on four weekends. Both championships will feature on the same programme, creating the largest race weekend ever for Porsche.

All Teams, Drivers and Partners in all three championships will become part of our Porsche family and heritage, where racing thrills are guaranteed, and the possibilities are endless.

Porsche Motorsport Pyramid

If you're an ambitious racing driver looking for the opportunity to excel and further your name, the Porsche Motorsport Pyramid delivers everything you're looking for and more.

Firstly, Porsche Club GB racing and Porsche Classic Boxster Cup offers you an entry level prior to Porsche Sprint Challenge GB, Porsche Carrera Cup Great Britain, and Porsche Mobil 1 Supercup. Thereafter, you could find yourself competing at World Championship GT level, Formula E and beyond.

Nick Tandy, the first driver to win Le Mans in a Porsche since Allan McNish in 1998, is testament to the Porsche Motorsport Pyramid. He drove his way to the top of the pyramid after making his debut at Porsche Carrera Cup Great Britain in 2008.

Three years later, Nick won the Porsche Carrera Cup Deutschland and took the Porsche Cup award the following year as the best private Porsche driver worldwide in a 911.

In 2015, this success enabled Nick to take a seat in the 3rd entry of the 24 Hours of Le Mans, the most gruelling motor race in the world. It was another win and from there he secured first place in the 2018 24 Hours of Nürburgring for Porsche in a works 911 GT3 R, and it didn't stop there. In 2019 and 2020, Nick went on to compete at the very highest level of American Sports Car racing in a Porsche RSR. Nick returns to the Porsche family in 2023 as a factory works driver, driving the LMDh 963 Hybrid.

This is just one story. There are still many more to be written. And it could be yours.

|| Porsche Sprint Challenge GB 2022 was the first Championship I have raced in since I raced in karts as a 13-year-old, so it was a huge learning curve for me. I had to learn the circuits as well as the characteristics of the car. The support I received from Team Parker Racing and Porsche enabled me to develop as a driver and ultimately win the championship in my first year, so I owe a debt of gratitude to both parties ||

Porsche Carrera Cup Great Britain

Porsche Carrera Cup GB continues to be an unmissable feature of every motorsport enthusiast's calendar. It's still the fastest single-marque GT racing championship within the UK.

Entering its 21st season in 2023, the prestigious Porsche Championship continues to be a magnet for spectators and drivers. The Championship is the perfect stage for ambitious drivers keen to prove themselves, and to accelerate their progression within the world of motorsport.

Identical cars are used which puts the focus on the drivers' skill. This helps to create thrilling, close racing and ensures recognition for the very best drivers in each class.

Former success stories include drivers such as Charlie Eastwood, Richard Westbrook, and Michael Meadows. All used their accomplishments as Porsche Carrera Cup Great Britain champions to fuel their careers as professional GT racers.

Runner-up in the 2012 Porsche Carrera Cup Great Britain, Ben Barker competed in a Porsche 911 RSR in the FIA World Endurance Championship. Whilst Dan Harper, the 2018/2019 Porsche Junior champion achieved enviable success as a factory driver for the BMW Junior Team, recently graduating as an official BMW works driver.

Others have made the move into British Touring Car Championship (BTCC), including triple champion Dan Cammish, Sam Tordoff, Tom Oliphant, and Ollie Jackson. Nicholas Latifi, who competed in the 2015 Porsche Carrera Cup Great Britain season, reached the pinnacle of motorsport in 2020 as a driver for the Formula 1® Championship Team, Williams Racing.

Several other former champions have gone on to compete in rounds of the Porsche Mobil 1 Supercup, including Josh Webster, who won the Porsche Carrera Cup Great Britain in 2014.

Joining Josh are 2018 champion Tio Ellinas, 2018 Rookie champion George Gamble, Pro-Am category champion Seb Perez and Dan Harper, the 2018/2019 Porsche Carrera Cup Great Britain Junior Driver, the youngest ever Porsche Carrera Cup Great Britain champion.

The latest name to join these Porsche Mobil 1 Supercup alumni is Harry King the 2020/2021 PCCGB Junior. In 2022, Harry became a Supercup podium finisher, while also achieving glory at the championship in Porsche Carrera Cup Benelux.

These drivers and their impressive achievements are further testament to why Porsche Carrera Cup Great Britain nurtures the highest calibre of skill and proves how the Porsche brand continues to invest in drivers and teams in 2023.

The 2023 Championship is sure to be another action-packed season.

Fastest one-make GT racing car in Great Britain

From concept to creation and introduction to the racetrack, creating the perfect racecar has been a welcome challenge for Porsche. The development of the 911 GT3 Cup takes us further on this transcendent journey. Achieving a faster, more durable, efficient, and safer racecar, leading the way for racetrack accuracy, greatness, and further success.

The main goal of the development team is to further improve performance, achieve a more aggressive design, with easier handling, greater durability, and less outlay in terms of time and maintenance.

Outstanding performance requires increased power. The revised 4.0 litre six-cylinder boxer engine now produces up to 510hp at 8,400rpm and 470Nm at 6,150 rpm, driving peak speeds exceeding 170mph.

The 911 GT3 Cup reaches unprecedented performance levels through a drive system transmitted to the rear axle by a racing clutch and a Porsche six-speed sequential dog-type transmission. Its success is due to a new drive system where engine and gearbox run times are doubled before they need their first rebuild, significantly reducing operation costs.

Continuing to be the favourite among motorsports teams and drivers, the 911 GT3 Cup car delivers incredible performance and success, competing in prestigious racing events across the globe including GT racing championships and endurance races. The 911 GT3 Cup continues to shape the future of race cars drawing upon the finest racing technology and impressive design.

|| Closing the 2021 season as Rookie Champion and entering my second season of Carrera Cup in 2022, the pressure was on! Going head-to-head with some of the best drivers in the sport is testament to the car and Championship, there is no other in the UK with such a high level of organisation, support, and racing. Winning the 2022 Championship overall and competing in the Porsche Supercup Junior shootout will stay firmly in my memory for a long-time ||

Porsche Carrera Cup Great Britain Junior 2023/24

Running since 2008, the hugely successful Porsche Carrera Cup Great Britain Junior programme strives to find the best young racing talent. The programme continues in 2023 as Adam Smalley, the Porsche Carrera Cup Great Britain Junior enters his second year with support from Porsche. Smalley, took victory on his debut weekend and finished second in the 2022 overall championships.

21-year-old Smalley took this coveted role from Harry King and follows in the footsteps of Dan Harper, Charlie Eastwood, and Josh Webster, who all won Porsche Carrera Cup Great Britain honours before embarking on careers in international motorsport. Adam joined fellow candidates at the Porsche Experience Centre at Silverstone where they were put through their paces on and off the track.

The Porsche Carrera Cup Great Britain Junior must be an outstanding racing driver, ensuring their media and fitness skills are developed to become the perfect ambassador for Porsche.

In addition to the racing calendar, the Porsche Carrera Cup Great Britain Junior would normally attend high profile events such as the Goodwood Festival of Speed and other networking events that aid future exposure. Smalley's memorable airborne run up the famous Goodwood hill in 2022 was a hit on social media.

The Porsche Carrera Cup Great Britain Junior benefits from a generous two-year contribution of £85,000 per annum towards their racing budget. Support from Porsche Motorsport Engineers, specialist media training and a full fitness programme with the Porsche Human Performance team.

Applications for the Porsche Carrera Cup Great Britain 2024 / 2025 will be open later this year in 2023.

|| Winning the Porsche GB Junior shootout at the end of 2021 was a dream come true. It was a great year and an amazing experience to compete in such a prestigious and competitive championship. Working with the Porsche team and engineers taught me so much about what is required to be a professional racing driver, both on and off the circuit.

I had a great debut year finishing Vice Champion and challenging for race wins and podiums throughout the season. With the knowledge and experience I gained in 2022, I'll be working hard to challenge for the title in 2023 ||

Young Driver Development Programme

Fostering further support for young racing drivers, the Young Driver Development Programme continues in 2023, boasting several key benefits in addition to the substantial financial reward.

Since its introduction in 2015, the Rookie Championship uses its own separate points table within the championship. Eligible drivers will continue to compete in all three of the core championship categories: Pro, Pro-Am and Am.

Any rewards on offer to Rookie competitors will be in addition to those received during participation in the core categories. The end-of-season prize fund for the Rookie category is set at a generous £35,000 and the breakdown is as follows:

First prize £20,000
Second prize £10,000
Third prize £5,000

An exclusive Tag Heuer Chronograph wristwatch is awarded to the driver who achieves the highest number of fastest laps over the 2023 race season. The Young Driver Development Programme is designed to aid talented young drivers as they make their way up the Porsche Motorsport Pyramid. In addition to tackling the challenge of financial barriers, the programme takes a more integrated approach to supporting young drivers.

In association with tyre partner, Michelin, the Young Driver Development Programme supplies 12 slick Michelin tyres, as well as a Michelin Tyre Masterclass. The Masterclass focuses on technical training from Michelin experts to achieve peak tyre performance. The Porsche Carrera Cup Great Britain Technical Team will also be on hand throughout the 2023 race season to offer data support to aid the driving performance of competitors and help to explain the key dynamics of the 911 GT3 Cup.

Completing the package of on track support is a programme held at the Porsche Human Performance Centre. A team of experts at the state-of-the-art Silverstone facility provide guidance and training on all aspects of physical and mental preparation. This includes diet in relation to training and reaction times. Off track, eligible drivers will also benefit from media training sessions, while a bespoke Porsche team kit will mark them out in the paddock.

To take part in this programme, drivers must be under 25 years of age on 1 March 2023. In addition, drivers should not have competed in any Porsche Carrera Cup for more than one round or the Porsche Mobil 1 Supercup. Competitors can enter any of the three categories: Pro, Pro-Am or Am, and they must register and take part in all races during the 2023 season to be eligible for the Young Driver Development benefits.

The delivery of this entire programme will be subject to the relevant regulations and best practices.

“Racing in Porsche Carrera Cup GB this year has been a privilege for myself and my team, Century Motorsport. As a new driver with a new team to the championship, it's been extremely challenging to race against experienced Carrera Cup drivers and prestigious teams. Being a part of the Young Driver Development Programme has been great for helping me identify my strengths and weaknesses as a driver, working towards becoming a more 'well-rounded' individual. It's been a pleasure to make a return to single make racing in a championship as prestigious as Porsche Carrera Cup GB. We've learnt a lot this year and I'm extremely excited for the future”

Gus Burton

2022 Porsche Carrera Cup GB Rookie Champion

Race formats

In 2023 we will continue the partial reverse grid for race two on each championship weekend.

Race 1

Drivers' fastest qualifying time will decide their place on the starting grid.

Race 2

The finishing order of the first race will decide the starting grid for the second race each weekend. Like last year, if a driver does not finish in Race 1, they will start behind the last race finisher within their category, and not at the back of the entire grid. The reverse grid format works as follows:

- The winner of Race 1 selects a number between four and six at random
- The number selected at random will decide if the first four, five or six drivers over the line of the first race will have their grid positions reversed for the second race. So, if the number drawn at random is four, the winner of Race 1 will start in fourth place, the driver that comes second will start in third place, the driver that comes third will start in second place and the driver that comes fourth will take pole position.
- Starting positions for all other competitors will relate to their finishing order in Race 1

Both Race 1 and Race 2 will continue to have standing starts.

POINTS STRUCTURE 2023

The points allocation system, consistent across all categories, remains in place to ensure the best driver wins.

Pro (Race 1) points will be allocated as follows:

1ST	12 PTS
2ND	10 PTS
3RD	8 PTS
4TH	6 PTS
5TH	4 PTS
6TH	3 PTS
7TH	2 PTS
8TH	1 PT

Pro (Race 2), Pro-Am and Am points allocation:

1ST	10 PTS
2ND	8 PTS
3RD	6 PTS
4TH	5 PTS
5TH	4 PTS
6TH	3 PTS
7TH	2 PTS
8TH	1 PT

ADDITIONAL POINTS

Drivers who set the fastest lap time at each qualifying race weekend will be awarded two championship points. Drivers will be awarded one championship point for setting the fastest lap time of each race within their category.

Weekend prize money allocation

With more than 32,000 Porsche motorsport victories, we know what it takes to win. We acknowledge the recognition of winners, and support this with a financial reward, so again the 2023 Porsche Carrera Cup Great Britain is offering incredible weekend prize money.

The 2023 distribution of prize money for race weekends stays the same for the Pro and Pro-Am categories. As in 2022, the Pro category prize money will reflect the drivers' class finishing order in Race 1, in the same way that championship points are distributed.

	PRO RACE 1	PRO RACE 2	PRO AM
1ST	£1,500	£1,200	£1,000
2ND	£1,200	£1,000	£700
3RD	£1,000	£700	£500

Exceptional championship prizes

The total 2023 championship prize pot is extremely generous, and the Pro category Porsche Carrera Cup Great Britain champion will win £25,000.

Every Porsche is born from a motorsport soul, and we take pride in transferring racetrack technology onto the road. For 2023, the Pro, Pro-Am, Am and Team champions will experience this transfer first-hand, by winning the use of a Porsche 911 Carrera for one year.

Tag Heuer Chronograph wristwatches will be awarded at the end of the year 2023, one for each driver with the highest number of fastest laps per category.

At the end of the 2023 season, drivers can win the following:

	PRO	PRO AM	AM

3RD	£10,000	£2,000	£1,000

Winners of each class will also receive a 911 Carrera for a year.

|| Winning the championship in 2022 was a dream come true! Since starting my GT racing journey in 2020 in Porsche Sprint Challenge GB it's been a constant learning curve. The support from Porsche Motorsport GB, and my team has been instrumental in the culmination of my progression, leading to the success of winning the championship in 2022.

There was so much to learn during 2020 & 2021, and it really helped my approach to the championship in 2022, the race craft, the progression, and using the car to the best of its characteristics. Applying this knowledge to each racing weekend this year enabled us to start with a bang! Winning the first 3 rounds of the opening weekend set us up perfectly for the season, I was constantly pushed by my fellow competitors which brought out the best in me ||

Extensive team support

We welcome both new and existing teams to Porsche Sprint Challenge GB each year. We recommend that drivers should talk to all teams to learn about their fantastic experiences.

|| Porsche Sprint Challenge GB was one of the highlights of the season for us at Team Parker, watching Matt, Harry and Charles all taking turns at standing on the top step of the podium throughout the year and all with a shout of the title going into the final round was a source of great pride.

Finishing 2022 with Harry as Champion and Charles as vice Champion has given them both a great opportunity to progress up the Porsche Pyramid in 2023.

John's maiden Podiums in the AM class and his increase in Performance over the season gives us renewed hope for next year, and 2023 will bring a fresh challenge with the move to the TOCA package.

As always, many thanks, to our drivers, staff and Porsche for all their dedication in 2022 ||

Stuart Parker
Team Principal, Team Parker Racing

ESPORTS CARRERA CUP

Porsche Esports Carrera Cup GB

Esports is short for 'electronic sports', a form of competition using video games – it allows players to participate online against rivals around the world from the comfort of their own homes. Esports has grown rapidly in popularity over recent years, especially since the global lockdowns of 2020 when uptake accelerated exponentially.

Sim Racing, the Motorsport side of Esports offers budding drivers an accessible route into competition and Porsche prides itself on encouraging new racing talent. Esports provides the opportunity to reach a fresh audience of enthusiastic and passionate racers.

Many of today's top Esports competitors started their journey driving Porsche road and racing cars on home console systems, such as Playstation® or Xbox® using just a controller. Migrating to powerful PCs, most racers use sophisticated steering wheel and pedal sets designed to provide ultra-realistic levels of feedback and newfound driver engagement.

Following in the virtual tyre tracks of the global Porsche TAG Heuer Esports Supercup, Porsche Esports Carrera Cup GB was introduced by Porsche Cars Great Britain in 2021 to partner with its own domestic championship. The season and rules follow Porsche Carrera Cup GB as closely as possible, taking place on the iRacing platform, the world's leading online racing simulation.

In the Porsche Esports Carrera Cup GB, skillful professional sim racers compete over 16 races at the wheel of an accurate recreation of the Porsche 911 GT3 Cup (Type 992). This exciting, close competition is broadcast live via the Porsche Twitch and YouTube channels watched by a growing audience of dedicated fans.

2023 Race Calendar

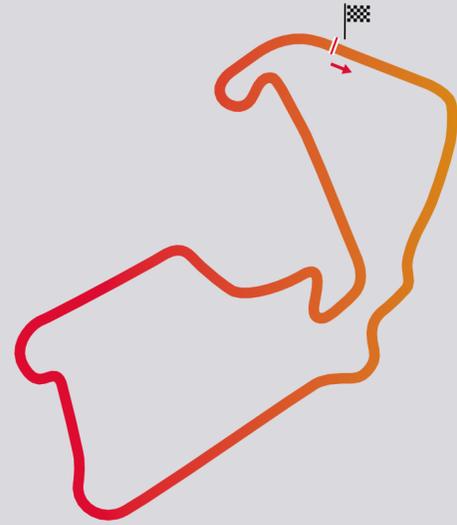

In 2022, 26 of the world's best racers fought for a prize pot totalling £15,000, increased further for 2023 to over £30,000 with the introduction of the Professional and Amateur categories.

A full calendar of racing events starts in January 2023 over nine weekends. The action will play out across accurate renditions of the UK's best circuits, beginning at Silverstone GP with the grand finale at Brands Hatch GP.

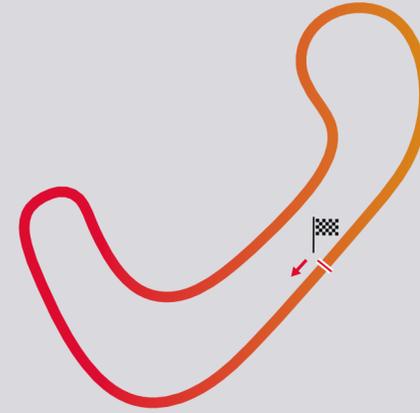

Returning for 2023 is an exciting guest event, which sees the championship race at Spa-Francorchamps in Belgium, the iconic racetrack visited by Porsche Carrera Cup GB in 2015.

|| Competing in the Porsche Esports Carrera Cup GB in '21 and '22 was the best racing I've experienced in Esports to date. With the architecture of the cars allowing such close racing, it made every race meeting incredibly tense. Between the drivers and the tracks, it provided one of the biggest challenges. To bounce back in '22 after finishing P2 in the championship in '21, was such a relief. The car kept me on my toes the whole season as we worked our way through the most iconic British tracks, with no run off and close quarters battles. I will miss not being on the grid for '23 but I'll forever be thankful to Porsche for the experiences these past 2 seasons and I hope I can be back on the grid in the future ||
